40th Reunion?

No, you didn't just wake up from a really long dream. It really has been 40 years since our graduation.

In conjunction with our 40th reunion celebration, we put out a rather lengthy questionnaire. Our instructions were to answer as many questions as you'd like, but many classmates answered most of them and many in detail. The result of that questionnaire is this booklet.

A lot has changed in the last 40 years. When we were in high school, there was no internet, no email, no websites, and no personal computers! Also, no cell phones, no CD's, no digital music, no Blu-Ray, DVDs, no video tape, and no video recording. A 26-inch TV was considered enormous. No digital pictures. We used film which had to be processed and was costly. To communicate with someone, you either dialed their telephone number and if they were actually at home they'd answer where you could have a genuine conversation, or you'd write a letter. The list goes on and on ...

But things have also changed, just since our 30th reunion. Most of our class has email and internet access. Though we had a paper option for the questionnaire, not a single classmate utilized that method. This reality allows us to electronically publish this document which offers the following advantages: 1) There is no publishing cost so it can be freely distributed, and 2) The distribution is not limited to those who attend the reunion. Consequently, we have distributed this booklet to everyone on our reunion email list.
